

Thursday

A black and white photograph of a person walking through a series of vertical glass panels, creating a blurred silhouette effect. The person is in the center, moving from left to right, and their figure is blurred due to motion. The panels are set against a dark background, and the light coming through them creates a strong contrast.

Our first lab session - we'll start exploring how to build common data pipelines that we'll use this semester...

WHAT DO YOU
MEAN
?

Questions